Faculty Positions

University at Buffalo,
The State University of New York
Assistant Professor (HS) or Associate Professor (HS)

The Department of Restorative Dentistry, School of Dental Medicine at the University at Buffalo, is seeking applicants for two positions: one in Operative and/or Esthetic Dentistry and/or Prosthodontics. Both positions are full-time, tenure-track positions at the rank of assistant or associate professor (HS).

Responsibilities: (1) preclinical, clinical and didactic teaching in the pre-doctoral educational program, (2) development of independent research programs and scholarly activity, (3) participation in the school's continuing education program and (4) limited teaching at the advanced education programs.

Requirements: (1) DDS or DMD or equivalent degree, (2) completion of a formal advanced educational program in operative dentistry or having considerable teaching experience in this area. The other position requires a certificate from an ADA-accredited advanced program in prosthodontics and/or board certification or active progress toward board certification. Preference will be given to individuals with previous teaching experience, a strong commitment to independent clinical/laboratory research and scholarly activity and eligibility for licensure in New York State.

Salary and rank are commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. An internal faculty practice opportunity is available for New York State-licensed individuals.

Interested applicants should submit a letter of intent online with CV and three letters of reference from individuals who are familiar with the applicant's career. The deadline for application is 9/1/09 or until filled.

All applications must be completed online at the following website:
