Westin Hotel, Regency III

3:00 p.m. —

President Michael Cochran called the meeting to order.

The minutes of the October 10, 1990 meeting were approved as published in the Gold Leaf.

Correspondence

President Cochran read an exceptionally warm letter from "Miss Nell," Nell Faucett, thanking the Academy for the many expressions of appreciation at the Boston meeting as she completed her duties.

Letters were read from several long-time active and valuable members requesting transfer to the retired member status. Drs. Rex Ingraham, Cliff Miller, W.J. McIlwain, Paul E. Farrell, Adrian A. Dunn (Australia), Leonard R. Aksamil, Karl W. Kaiser, Jr. and G. Keith Brumwell.

An itemized list of receipts and expenditures is available from the Treasurer.

The proposed 1991 budget was provisionally approved with no increase of dues or meeting expenses until the costs of the Vancouver meeting can be more accurately predicted.

Journal Report

Dr. David Bales (Editor) and Dr. Martin Anderson (Business Manager).

The Journal was operated in 1990 with a profit, thus reducing the debt to $213.00. Costs (publication, labor and postage) will be higher in 1991 and will no doubt return operations to a deficit. An increase in revenue is needed. Additional subscriptions would be the most desirable method to improve income, so a concentrated advertising campaign is planned for 1991.

Dr. Bales requested that a new editor be selected for the 1993 volume. He hopes his replacement can be in place by June 1992 so that he/she could overlap for six months to ease the transition.

The publication of six issues in 1990 was successful. The number of articles accepted but not yet published as of January 1, 1991, will increase the lag time for publication of an accepted article to ten or twelve months.

Committee Reports

Publicity, Dr. David Bridgeman, Chairman: A table display has been prepared for this meeting, thanks to Dr. Eichmiller.

Membership, Dr. Donald Benson, Chairman: Applications have been received for five new and one active member.

Nominating, Dr. Richard D. Tucker, Chairman: Dr. Barry Evans has been nominated for the position of Councillor.

Literature and Research, Dr. Tim Carlson, Chairman: An updated addition has been prepared for the Chronological Literature Review.

Education and Study Club, Dr. Glenn Birkitt, Chairman: Another attempt will be made to compile an accurate list of the active study clubs.

Distinguished Member, Dr. Jose Medina, Chairman: A list of criteria for nominating and selecting awardees is being prepared.

Outstanding Clinician, Dr. Ronald Harris, Chairman: Nominations for the award are wanted by the committee.

Necrology, Dr. Bill Roberts, Chairman: No report.

Gold Leaf, Dr. Allan Osborn, Chairman: No report.

New Business

Vancouver Meeting, Dr. Ted Ramage, Chairman - Local Arrangements: Several attractive possibilities for the social events were discussed.

Drs. Ramage and Richard Hoard estimate that 25 operators will be demonstrating techniques. One problem that is being addressed is the selection of patients.

Old Business

The Constitution and By-laws ad hoc committee is discussing several revisions. The plan is to have a mail ballot by the Board and an Announcement of proposals prior to the October meeting.

The Second International Gold Foil Congress in Italy

European and North American members of the American Academy of Gold Foil Operators enjoyed an enormously successful and delightful congress in Santa Margherita and Genoa, June 1st and 2nd, 1991.

Dr. Andrea Chiarini, and Professor Gian Carlo Chiarini with the able help of their committee members organized local arrangements perfectly. Lectures took place at the headquarters hotel throughout the first day, and as can be seen from the following brief descriptions the day was packed with interest from start to finish. Each lecture complimented those that either proceeded or followed it in such a manner that everything dovetailed in a truly unique fashion.

The second day of the Congress, following the beautiful Gala Banquet of the Saturday evening, featured a full day of clinical operations in the Kavo facility in Genoa. There were present throughout the day a large number of extremely enthusiastic and responsive participants. All 12 operations were successfully completed to very high standards. The appreciation was universal, and on behalf of those who operated, I would like to express our thanks for the great selection of patients who were without exception fully cooperative.

Meanwhile back in the hotel, Dr. Andrea Chiarini, Dr. Nuvina Tinti, Dr. Him Verneti and Dr. Ralph Werner were running a series of lectures and table clinics so that participants could get first hand experience with direct gold.

International Gold Foil Congress Lecture Series

Dr. Andrea Chiarini introduces the conference, welcomes everyone present, and explains how the organization will proceed.

Dr. Gian Carlo Chiarini welcomes all lecturers and participants to the 2nd International Gold Foil Congress at Hotel Mirimar in Santa Margherita.

Dr. Jim Verneti on behalf of the North American lecturers and participants thanked Dr. Chiarini for his gracious introduction, and commenced the lecture series by demonstrating both philosophically and practically the indications for gold foil.

Dr. Melvin R. Lund took us through the origins of rubber dam in 1867 courtesy of Dr. Barnum through the advantages of usage and various modalities of application. The importance of a clean surgical field for optimum results with all materials was emphasized.

Dr. Robert Kinzer described the manner in which dental instruments of different designs had been fashioned according to principles not dissimilar to those used in engineering and fine cabinet making, and how these instruments can be utilized in logical sequence to give us a refined and superior preparation in clinical practice. Showing examples of each step to demonstrate clearly his intentions.

Dr. Giancarlo Gallo speaking in Italian gave a fascinating discourse on the metallurgy of gold, illustrating his lecture with a series of slides showing the effects of different surface treatments on grain structure and physical properties.

Dr. Lloyd Baum led us through some fascinating material in relation to the practical application of gold foil. The nature and manufacture of the various types was measured in some detail, and the types of preparation and packing principles suited to each variety brought forth.

Dr. Cinconi & Dr. Mangani from the University of Rome also gave their lectures in Italian accompanied by a series of fascinating slides demonstrating the nature of marginal adaptation in restorative materials, and particularly for direct filling gold, as seen through the optical microscope when it is used in various sophisticated ways.

Dr. Stefan Paul from the University of Zürich showed the superb marginal adaptation obtainable when using gold foil, and went on to further describe some new research in relation to the nature of cohesiveness as demonstrated by gold foil.

Dr. Robert Murray commenced his lecture by showing the preparation and placement of foil in class 1 cavity, and followed this with a series of slides taken at various meetings demonstrating the ultimate possibilities in the use of gold foil.

Dr. Allan Osborn described the way in which the class 5 can be isolated and prepared using slides to demonstrate the various outline forms that are possible, and the instrumentation that is required to achieve these results. He continued by demonstrating different approaches to packing the class 5 with accent on the principles involved.

Dr. Richard Hoard demonstrated the ideal approach to the placement of the class 2 foil, with the accent on a conservative approach, and an overview of the techniques that may be employed in condensation, including the use of matrices. A comparison with the indications for inlays completed an erudite presentation.

Dr. Warren Johnson presented the Ferrier class 3 gold foil preparation and condensation as the design relates to lower anteriors. This included typical instrumentation, a look at the technique of separation, the pitfalls involved in packing and the care required to create an aesthetically pleasing result.

Dr. Harold Schnepfer continued with the class 3 theme, presenting the Loma Linda approach for powdered gold. This gave a balance between the labial approach of Walden I Ferrier and the following lecture, showing the different style of instrumentation and gold placement involved. The excellent aesthetics that can be achieved by clinicians utilizing this philosophy.

Dr. Ralph Stenberg presented the third of the class 3 lectures, and his essay entitled the "Prima Donna" gold foil took the congress through the intricacies of the distal of the upper cuspid. Emphasizing the difference in outline and convenience form that allow for gold to be readily condensed in what appears to be a difficult situation, slides were shown of instrumentation and placement of gold to clarify the techniques involved.

Dr. Allan Osborn completed the lecture series by discussing the various modalities that are available to us in the finishing and polishing of all classifications of restored lesions. Discussion of the placement of separators, and the use of long strips, the surface textures of the burs, the instruments and the gold demonstrated the progression from packed gold to highly polished finished restoration.

Post Congress Tour

Following the congress most of the North American members went by bus through Genoa and Pisa to a charming hotel outside Florence. The food here was as good as that in the Grand Hotel Miramare, a five star hotel, and the accommodations brand new. For three nights we remained while we visited some of the incredible museums and cathedrals that form so prominent a feature of Florence, Sienna and other gracious towns and cities in this region.

The pace was hectic but everyone was so excited by the treasures that are to be seen on every side that not a complaint was to be heard. During the course of the travel onward to Rome, Dr. Jim Verneti phoned ahead, and was able to arrange that our small party should visit the private areas of the Vatican. This turn out to be a delightful surprise, everyone was thrilled to walk within the gardens of Vatican City, and to see the Chapel and the State Reception Rooms.

The weather was somewhat inclement during the latter part of the stay in Rome, so there were no ferocious beasts of any sort to be seen on our visit to the Colosseum. The Basilica of St. Peter's defies description, as does the artwork within the Sistine Chapel, it would in reality take several years to adequately absorb, study and start to fully appreciate all that was shown to us in so short a time.
